There are many beautiful routes and even something new to see also for those who live in the Vaasa area. On Friday, in addition to the archipelago tour, there are two routes of different lengths in the city. You will first go to the seaside. From the Brage Museum (open), you will head inland. The longer route will take you to Ämmänmäki, which is a popular recreation area (lighted trails in winter). You will also get to know older (Sepänkylä) and newer (Koskisuo) housing developments. The 21 km route will take you to the Bock's Corner brewery area. The shorter route will pass the cemetery and go through Tiklaslampi Park. Both routes will converge shortly before the finish line at the popular 'multi-purpose park'.

All routes on Saturday first head to the seaside, where you will find, among other things, the Court of Appeal building and the buildings of the University of Vaasa. It is worth stopping by the Maritime Museum, free admission! In the seaside area you will also pass a sewage treatment plant, where sewage from the neighboring municipality is also treated. The longer route (42 km) heads to the Koskisuo residential area via Karperö village. The longest routes (23 and 42 km) also go through Strömsö, where a popular home-stay program has been held, which has also been popular in other Nordic countries. The last kilometers of all routes come through Bock's Corner brewery, from where you head to the Onkilahti shore and through the multi-purpose park area to the finish line.

On Sunday, the routes first head to Edvinipolku, where you can explore wartime structures. Towards the end, the routes follow a beautiful seaside park - the coastal route is also part of the St. Olav pilgrimage route. Longer routes take you through Sepänkylä and Pilvilampi, as well as Old Vaasa (burned down in 1852). You will also explore the Alkula area, where Finland's first steam mill and tobacco fields were located, and where the oldest house in Vaasa is now located.

Marking: The routes are marked with white plastic ribbons with the Vaasan Marssi emblem and www-address, and with arrows. At the places where the routes go in different directions or come together there will also be special signs/coloured flags: 10 km red, 20-23 km white, 25 km yellow and 42 km blue. Also other signs and arrows will be used.

Service. Walking is arranged with resting places with distances of 5-8 km, where you can have water and in some places maybe something little to eat. Take something to drink and eat with you. You can buy pancakes and coffee at Strömsö on Saturday (23, 25 and 42 km) and at Alkula on Sunday (20, 25 and 42 km) - take some coins with you. The toilets (BajaMaja/WC) are marked on the route map.
